

Jaguar XJ-SC Stars In Kesha's "Joyride" Music Video

For something completely different - the following is about a famous American singer, who has sold over 100 million records worldwide and has just released a Music Video that involves a car chase using a V12 Jaguar XJ -SC.

America loves a good car chase whether it's broadcast live on the news or in a Hollywood blockbuster. Kesha, 37, who previously released hit songs like "TiK ToK," "We R Who We R," and "Your Love Is My Drug", recently resurfaced on the pop charts with her single "Joyride."

The song uses the powerful feeling of unbridled freedom when jumping in a car and going out for a drive to reflect Kesha's liberation from the treatment she was subjected to by her former producer. [She accused him of physical, sexual, and emotional abuse].

"Joyride" is Kesha's first song as an independent music artist, and it's an anthem of freedom, liberation, whimsy, and fun. The music video for the single is a sexy, action-packed fever dream of eclectic cars from the '70s and '80s speeding around Willow Springs Raceway while being gunned down by a helicopter, Quentin Tarantino style.

The first scene of the music video is set in the back seat of a Waymo self-driving Jaguar I-PACE, but quickly cuts to the good stuff with Kesha behind the wheel of an immaculate red Jaguar XJ-SC driving around what looks to be the iconic Willow Springs Raceway. As the music starts, a helicopter flies over the hill and starts shooting at our Jaguar-driving heroine, named "Mother." Once she escapes the helicopter fire, she fights off a series of bad guys in a Ford F-250, a Citroën SM, an Aston Martin Lagonda and an Austrian military Steyr.

Through some evasive driving and a lot of Hollywood camera magic, Kesha manages to shake off the bad guys and Kesha's XJ-SC survives the chase and gets a dedicated moment of modelling when Kesha poses on the Jaguar. The video ends when she drives down two of the bad guys.

For XJ-S owners, the 3-minute video is nowhere as good as Tom Walkinshaw doing a lap around Bathurst, but it is still worth watching. Goto: Kesha Jaguar XJ-SC.

For Toms Video Goto: Bathurst Pole

Editor: Information for this story sourced from Jalopnik Automotive News website.

